Upcoming Events

The Ultimate Orienteer
Debbie Newell

Mark your calendar for this series of 5 fun events beginning in March. Try 5 different forms of orienteering at 5 different locations - Score-O', Classic-O', Night-O, Short-O', and Long-O'.

On the longest course at each event, you (individuals only) will receive points for your placing. Your best 3 scores will be combined to determine if you are The Ultimate Orienteer. If an event is cancelled or a course disallowed, the number of scores counted may be reduced.

All events will include beginner and intermediate courses. Please see the Events page for more details about each event.

Scoring

The winner at each event receives 1000 points and everyone else receives points based on the percent behind the winner's time. For example, if the winner has a time of 25 minutes and your time is 50 minutes, you will score 500 points.

	2006 Ultimate Orienteer Events

Five Kinds of Fun

Following are short descriptions of the five types of orienteering offered during this year's Ultimate Orienteer Series. There are other variations of orienteering, but these are the ones we are currently using. In all types except Score-O, you must visit the controls in a specified order.

Short-O

As its name implies, this is a short, fast course characterized by short control legs. Quick route choices and accurate navigation are emphasized in short-o.

Score-O

An event with a mass start, each control on a score-o course is worth a particular number of points. Generally, the more difficult controls (because of their navigational difficulty or distance) are worth more points than easier controls. Competitors collect as many points as possible within a specified time limit. Point penalties (for example, 10 pts/minute) are assessed for those returning after the time limit. This is the only race in the series where you are allowed to visit controls in any order.

Night-O

Night-o, not surprisingly, is an event held in the dark. Control locations which seem easy during the day can become difficult by the light of a head lamp or flashlight.

Classic-O

A "normal" point-to-point orienteering course which follows the recommended guidelines for winning times.

Long-O

Long-o is characterized by long legs and long course lengths. The winning time for a long-o course is generally about 50% longer than a "normal" orienteering course.

Goat

A "goat" event is a special variation of long-o in which you must visit controls in order, but are allowed to skip one or more (quantity designated by the organizers, but your choice which one(s) to skip). Other course variations may also be allowed. Goats are mass-start events and generally have a 3-hour time limit. Fun and following are encouraged, but not required. For more information about goat events, visit the "official" goat site, www.billygoat.org.

Six Degrees of Navigation Sprint Adventure Race July 29, 2006

Join us for our 4th annual sprint adventure race, this year taking place in and around Lord Hill Park, just outside Snohomish. Test your mind and body in a challenging combination of sports disciplines, including kayaking/canoeing (optional), orienteering, mountain biking, and trail running. We'll also throw in some special tests just to make it interesting. The common thread is navigation: all participants must find their way from checkpoint to checkpoint using a map and compass. With a projected winning time of 4 hours, Six Degrees of Navigation is an adventure race that any motivated participant can complete. For more information about Six Degrees, check out our web site.

Training

Three O-Tips

Jennifer Knowles

CART

This is a mnemonic for your approach to running any race leg.

C = Control: what is the feature and on what side is the control hung.

A = Attack Point: find one! Make it easily findable and as close to the actual control as possible.

R = Route: how will I get to the attack point? Make yourself find at least 2 possible routes for each leg. Compare the routes, then choose and go! If you can make yourself do this, you will find better routes than you see on your first glance.

BEARING 315

T – Technique: what speed should I run for this leg or portion of the leg? In general terms, you run faster to the attack point, then check your speed and go slowly into the control. This part of the mnemonic tries to get you thinking about how much speed you can safely use for a given leg or portion of leg. This also addresses things like aiming off, pacing and using a catching feature—all that are important orienteering techniques.

Use CART for every control. It makes your approach systematic, and you'll be less likely to make a mistake.

Know how to RELOCATE!

This means realizing you're making a mistake and knowing how to correct it.

- STOP! Physically stop moving.
- Identify last KNOWN location on map.
- Talk through what you did after that known location. Sometimes if you haven't been paying attention you don't know what you've done, so skip this step,
- Look around. Think about what you see (cliff up the hill; stream behind me, reentrant just ahead) and try to find yourself on the map. Don't move yet!
- Look at the map and think about where the control is.
- NOW MOVE towards the control!
 Go more slowly than you think you should and don't try to "make up time," as this is a recipe for disaster. If you haven't been able to find yourself on the map, you should either go back to your last know location, or climb a hill (last resort) to get a look around.

There are other ways to relocate. This may not work for every one. The point is, have a system!

Run Your Own Race!

This means ignore other orienteers. Even the ones you KNOW are on your course. Even the ones who are "better" than you and could give you a "boost" into the Spring 2006 next control. Even great orienteers make mistakes, and the one you decide to follow could be due to make his/hers! Stay focused on your map and your plan. This is the path to orienteering happiness!

WIOL

24th Year of Washington Interscholastic Orienteering League (WIOL)

Jim Siscel, WIOL Director

The 24th year of WIOL has very successfully concluded with the Championship Meet at St. Edward State Park on February 18th. A big thank you to all Cascade Orienteering Club (COC) members who have helped put on the meets during the past four months. Without these volunteers the season would not have happened. Ben Hall did an outstanding job running the E-Punch system during the meets and getting the meet results on line very quickly. Mike Schuh's work on the WIOL website kept the information for WIOL participants current and up-to-date.

We had snow at Celebration Park and a JROTC drill competition on the Hamlin Park date, which kept some from being able to compete. Then we had to cancel the Bridle Trails meet for safety because of high winds that toppled many trees across the trails. Even with these hindrances we averaged 140 starts at the six season meets. We had 145 starts at the championship meet. The total starts for the seven meets were 986. There were 183 season participants and 45 day of meet participants.

I want to thank the coaches and parents from the fourteen schools that participated in the season. I want to thank the parents of individual students who participated in the season. Thank you to Brianne O'Neil and Joshua Glazier from Bremerton NJROTC who handed out start times each week. Your support helped make this extra-curricular activity successful.

News and Notes

Good Products for Poison Ivy

From http://www.progressivefarmer.com From Staff Reports

Pharmacist Coyet Lowery says two new products on the market have helped him avoid the itchy rash of poison ivy while working and hunting on his family's Georgia farm. Like most people, his sensitivity to the urushinol oil in poison ivy, oak and sumac has increased over the years, so he doesn't enter overgrown areas without first applying a lotion-like preventive called IvyBlock. Afterward, he washes his clothes, tools and hands with Tecnu Outdoor Skin Cleanser.

IvyBlock by EnviroDerm is a poison ivy, oak and sumac protectant that prevents the oils from reaching skin and causing a rash. It has to be reapplied every four hours for best protection, but convenient 1-ounce bottles are easy to carry around.

Tecnu Outdoor Skin Cleanser removes poison ivy, oak and sumac oils from exposed skin to prevent a rash if you wash within 24 hours of exposure. The cleanser also can be used to clean tools, clothing, boots, shoelaces and pets that have been contaminated by the oils. Because the oils can have effect up to a year on clothing or tools, cleaning them from these contaminated items can help you avoid a secondary contact.

Both IvyBlock and Technu Outdoor Skin Cleanser are available at most drug and discount stores, such as Wal-Mart. For more information about product availability, call EnviroDerm (IvyBlock) at 1-800-991-3376 and Tec Labs (Oak-N-Ivy cleanser) at 1-800-482-4464.

Presidents Report

by Jim Siscel, COC President

We have successfully completed the 24th season for the Washington Interscholastic Orienteering League (WIOL), please see that report below. COC has had eight equivalent A level orienteering meets over the past four months. A big thank you to all who helped make this season successful.

Volunteers are what make COC work. We have had many new faces helping out during the past six months. We need to have other members who enjoy the sport and activity of orienteering to please volunteer as well. One and a half hours of volunteer time earns you an appreciation coupon, which lets you have a free entry to a future meet. We have set our volunteer schedule so you can volunteer and still participate at the meet.

I would like to suggest that all COC members help at every third meet they attend. After helping three times at such jobs as registration, start, finish, e-punch issue, control pickup, members should volunteer to co-direct or set courses at a meet. Learning the basics of meet organization is easy when working by the side of an experienced meet director. After co-directing a local meet, members should volunteer to be a meet director.

Of critical importance are the positions of Meet Director and Course Setter. If we don't have volunteers for these two positions we cannot have meets. If these positions are not filled one month before a meet we will have to cancel that particular meet. We have experienced Meet Directors and Course Setters who are very willing to mentor new volunteers for these positions. This has occurred during the past four months. We need club members to volunteer for these positions for the Ultimate O Season. Please contact Debbie Newell our Event Coordinator to volunteer.

The Board of Directors has decided to upgrade our SportIdent Epunch equipment to the newest version. This upgrade will make it easier for the Epunch Coordinator and Course Setter to do their jobs.

I would like to thank Ben Hall, our Epunch Coordinator, for the outstanding job he has done over the past two years running the Epunch system for 30 meets. Without Ben and the Epunch system I would have not wanted to be in charge of checking 250-300 punch cards to be sure everyone punched correctly. Ben has asked to step down as Epunch Coordinator. He is willing to work with a new volunteer for this position to train him/her. Without the availability of the Epunch system COC will not be able to put on the quality meets that we have over the past two years. I urge someone or two someones to step forward and take the Epunch Coordinator position.

We need a Land Use Coordinator. This person contacts the landowner of the scheduled meet area and gets permission to use the land area for the meet. We need a Volunteer Coordinator who organizes the volunteers for each meet and passes their names on to the Meet Director.

Yes, this is a volunteer based organization without volunteers we can't have the excellent orienteering meets that have been occurring. Please volunteer for one of the above three positions. Let me know which one you would like to fulfill.

December 17 dawned clear and cold for the 4th WIOL meet of the year. Course Setters & Meet Directors Doug and Katie Sprugel were out in the woods at 7:30am, setting the first controls. After a few missed starts (I'm sure that stump was here yesterday! How the heck do I get this post into the frozen ground without bending it?) things went smoothly. Vetters Kerie Raymond and Eric Bone went out around 9:30. Eric pre-ran course 5 and Kerie took on the challenging task of checking all the controls on courses 3, 4A and 4B that weren't on course 5 (in other words, a sort of a score-O approach to vetting). Fortunately, everything was in order, or at least close (whew!). It turns out being both meet directors and course setters works out well except for about half an hour on the day of the meet when you need to be in the woods and in the start area simultaneously, which is awkward if you don't have Hermione's Time Turner (inside joke for Harry Potter fans).

Turnout was good for a WIOL meet this close to the holidays. We had 133 WIOL participants and 132 public registrants. Everyone finished in good spirits and seemed to enjoy the courses. On Courses 4 and 5, thanks to Jim Siscel's efforts, we were able to use the woodlot south of Shorecrest High School. Jim got permission for us to use it and then did some quick map updating to make it more usable for orienteering. Doug and I used this to make each of the upper courses a mix of detailed orienteering in the early part of the courses with some "runner's" legs towards the end of the courses.

Winning times were as follows:

Course	Len (km)	WIOL Winning Time	Public Winning Time
1	1.2	10:31	9:21
2	1.8	20:27 boys 22:42 girls	26:14
3	2.7	28:17	42:33
4G	3.8	33:32	42:50
4B	4.1	29:12
5	4.5		24:22 Men 35:55 Women

Thanks to all the volunteers who made the meet happen!

Summer 2006

The Newsletter of Orienteering in the Pacific Northwest

25 Years of WIOL!

Presidents Report

Jim Siscel, Cascade President

at a later meet.

The fall and winter orienteering season are right around the corner. The National Orienteering Day is scheduled for Saturday, September 16th. This is the day that orienteering clubs across the country invite interested people to come out and try the sport of orienteering. Cascade's meets will be a Woodland Park. In October we will have 3 meets. Sunday, October 15th, will be a benefit for the US Interscholastic Championship travel fund. This meet will be on an enhanced USGS map in the area of Hyak Lake just west of Snoqualmie Summit on I-90 in the Hyak skiing area. Meet. This meet will honor Cascade's founders. It will be at Ft. October 21th is what we are terming our Founder's Day October 21th is what we are terming our Founder's Day October 21th is what we are terming our Founder's Day Park in Lynnwood and bring your garlie and wooden stake to Park in Lynnwood and bring your garlie and wooden stake to ward off the Vampires.

Starting the first Saturday in November and continuing through February on the first and third Saturday of each month will be the Winter O/WIOL season. The locations are published in the newsletter. These are big meets drawing 250 participants or more. This is a time when we need many volunteers to help perform the different duties to have an orienteering meet. Jana Dvorak has agreed to be Meet Director for all of these meets and we are giving her a monetary stipend to do the job. We felt this was necessary to provide consistency at these large meets. So when you see emails from her asking for volunteers please tespond. If you volunteer for a minimum of 1½ hours you will respond. If you volunteer for a minimum of 1½ hours you will receive an appreciation coupon that you can use for free entry receive an appreciation coupon that you can use for free entry

On Saturday, March 3 we will have another benefit for the US Interscholastic Championships travel fund at Lynndale Park in Lynnwood. Both of the benefit meets will be staffed by youth orienteers. One of the courses will have partners using their cell phones to find the controls in the park. There will be regular courses for those that spend enough time on their cell phones during the week and want a day off.

Finally due to the fact that we did not have anyone volunteer to be Meet Director or Course Setter the COC Board voted to cancel the orienteering meet in the Cle Elum area scheduled for

Washington Interscholastic Orienteering League

Jim Siscel, WIOL Director

This is the 25th Year of the Washington Interscholastic Orienteering League (WIOL). We had tremendous participation last year. There were 319 individual participants, teams from 14 schools and participants from 25 schools. I expect that we will grow again this year from inquiries that I have been receiving. Because of the numbers we will provide 6 WIOL courses—elementary, middle school; junior varsity boys and girls, and varsity boys and girls. At the same time and participating on some of the same courses there will be four courses for regular orienteers participating in the Winter O season.

During the past summer three of the WIOL varsity girls traveled with their families to Europe and participated in meets in Sweden, Austria, and Germany. On the WIOL website you can read Catherine Olsson's and Tori Borish's experiences. (www.

(gro.loiw

Many of the WIOL participants are aiming for the US Interscholastic Orienteering Championships March 31/April 1 in northeastern Maryland. Last year 24 WIOL participants went to the Championships in North Carolina. You can read about Holly Kuestner's, Tori Borish's, Matej Urban's and Catherine Olsen's very interesting experiences on the WIOL website. Their experiences were published in the June/July issue of Orienteering very interesting experiences on the WIOL website. Their experiences were published in the June/July issue of Orienteering.

If any adult orienteer knows a young person who you think might enjoy orienteering bring him/her to a meet before the season and see if the orienteering experience is exciting for him/her. If they are excited encourage them to become a WIOL participant. Regaretexited encourage them to become a WIOL website.
